

C-Bus West Wine Path

For those who appreciate wine and are looking for a little fun, visiting these wineries clustered along an arc north and west of our capital city, provides a lovely excuse to explore country roads and enjoy pretty view sheds. All are owned by families passionate about their craft, yet each is unique in their own right. Some have been around for decades; others are very new to the industry. Some grow grapes and only make wine that comes from their farm, others source exceptional fruit from around Ohio and the region. They pour dry wines, sweet wines, fruit wines and dessert wines. Several also have expanded into the craft beer business. There will be a myriad of well-made easy-to-enjoy wines and craft beers along the trail: something to satisfy every palate.
